The visitors have been taking numerous automobile rides about the city and making purchases at the stores.

Waited Since '98; Now Happily Wed

Cards were received in Omaha last night from Mrs. Ada Kelley Alexander, announcing the marriage of her daughter, Florence Gertrude, to Captain George Edward Steuenberg, U. S. A., on Monday, August 16, at San Francisco. Captain and Mrs. Steuenberg will be at home after September 15 at Honolulu, where his regiment, the Twenty-fifth Infantry, is stationed.

Thus ends a romance of the war between Spain and the United States. Captain Steuenberg joined an Idaho volunteer regiment when McKinley called for troops in 1898, and on the eve of the regiment's departure from Boise met a little girl whom he kept in mind for seventeen years. Miss Alexander grew up and went on the stage as a whistler, later she came to Omaha, and for several years was private secretary to one of the city's best known attorneys. Then she returned to the stage, and at San Francisco again met the captain, and the romance ripened quickly. The wedding took place in the Idaho building at the exposition grounds, and was witnessed by many friends, the ceremony being performed by Chaplain Arthur Osseward of Alcatraz Island.

Aged Man Survives Hard Knock by Car

William Davis, 75 years old, living at Tenth and Grace, was struck by a street car at Fourteenth and Dodge streets last night and knocked twenty feet. NEGRO STABS CONDUCTOR AND PASSENGER IN CAR

The negro had been standing on the platform obstructing the way of passengers who wanted to get on. When asked to move he became insulting and struck at the conductor. Stewart fought back and the negro pulled a knife. He had the conductor by the throat and was stabbing him when Phillips, who is an ice man, interfered. Phillips suffered several cuts about the hands, but managed to free the conductor, and together they held the black until the police came.

Little Wilfred was terribly burned a week ago when his clothing caught fire. His neck and body were badly burned and physicians despaired of saving his life.

The operation will take place this week.

HAPPENINGS IN THE MAGIC CITY

Frank Herman Wins Sweepstakes Prize for Having Best Garden in South Side.

OTHER WINNERS IN CONTEST

Assistant Superintendent of Omaha Schools N. M. Graham yesterday gave out a statement of the progress of the garden contest that has been carried on among the students of the public schools during the past year. The list of winners in the recent season's contest was also given.

During the last two years the contests among the students have been interesting, more so since the Board of Education, city council and the stock yards have taken an active interest in the outcome. Donations for the contest just closed from the former South Omaha city council and the Union Stock Yards company, amounting to $75, were distributed among the prize winners. Truant Officer Paul Maculey assisted as manager of the contest.

The plan of awarding prizes is the same as in previous years. The city is divided into districts corresponding to the eleven ward school districts. In each district three prizes are awarded for the three best gardens, $1 being allowed for the first prize, $2 for the second and $1 for the third.

There is also a prize of $5 awarded for the best garden in the city, or a sweepstakes prize.

This year Frank Herman, 2935 Washington street, in the Highland district, is awarded the sweepstakes prize. He had a fine large garden, absolutely clean and filled with a variety of vegetables and flowers that would be the pride of any gardener, young or old. The awards by districts are as follows:

Brown Park—Sylvia Thornburg, 411 South Eighteenth street, first prize; Margaret Cherry, 370 South Twenty-seventh street, second prize; Lester Brock, 271 South Twenty-seventh street, third prize.

Central—John Thornton, 823 North Twenty-fourth street, first prize; Walter L. Walters, 200 North Twenty-fourth street, second prize; Luella Chambers, 205 L Street, third prize.

North—Prosper Elvon, 4019 W Street, first prize; John Pike, 4010 W Street, second prize; Anna Thompson, 125 North Thirty-ninth street, third prize.

Garfield—Oliver Barker, 310 North Twenty-fifth street, first prize; Harold Hunter, 265 North Twenty-fifth street, second prize; Marion Carr, 58 North Thirtieth street, third prize.

Hawthorne—Harry Neeson, 107 North Seventeenth street, first prize; Joe Shalnholtz, 20 North Nineteenth street, second prize; Clinton Sullivan, 223 North Thirteenth street, third prize.

Highland—Maline Zambel, 255 Adams street, first prize; Mrs. Zambel, 255 Adams street, second prize; Ivo Clark, 231 Monroe street, third prize.

Junction—Roy Green, 123 Archer street, first prize; Harry Kocanda, 120 North Seventeenth street, second prize; George Laitner, 22 North Twentieth street, third prize.

Lincoln—Doris Duncan, 1323 North Twenty-fourth street, first prize; Harry Peterson, 100 North Twenty-fourth street, second prize; Florence Brander, 1639 North Twenty-third street, third prize.

Madison—Elmer Faulk, 192 Jackson street, first prize; Anna Nisbet, 174 Washington street, second prize; Madge Gillispie, 1212 Washington street, third prize.

West Side—Roy Fredlund, 40 South Twenty-ninth street, first prize; Joseph Moe, 187 South Twenty-ninth street, second prize; Mary West, 240 W Street, third prize.

As a Teachers' Soon.

Annual assignment of the South Side public school teachers will be made tomorrow. This statement was whispered unofficially yesterday. According to well-founded rumor, Superintendent E. U. Graft has decided upon a system of benevolent assimilation in affairs of the merged school systems. With this end in view practically half of the South Side teachers will be assigned to schools on the North Side and former North Side teachers will be assigned to the South Side. While it was not admitted, it is understood that exchange of equal numbers of the teachers is expected to bring about a co-ordination and unification of the merged school systems in a very short time.

Among the teachers yesterday there was considerable flurry over the proposed assignments. Just who will go to the North Side schools and who will be sent to the South Side remains a schoolman's puzzle with a thrill of expectancy.

Students to Run Press.

As soon as Assistant Superintendent of Schools N. M. Graham vacates his present offices in the high school building at Twenty-third and J streets the new printing press bought by two faculty members for printing the next year's issue of the Tooter, the high school bi-weekly paper, will be brought to the high school building. An all-modern press room with splendid daylight lighting facilities will then be arranged in the outer main office of the former superintendent and the inner private office made over for a composition and ad-setting room.

Prof. R. H. Johnson, head of the commercial department, who has had considerable experience as a printer, will have charge of the new printing plant and will teach several picked students of the school the operation and management of setting up and printing the paper.

Students are intensely enthusiastic over the new proposition of owning the press on which they print their own school paper.

Back Pay to Park Workers.

True to his word, Commissioner of Parks Hummel authorized warrants approximating something more than $1,000 each pay for employees of the defunct South Omaha Park board, who had worked several weeks during the summer on the gamble that in event of consolidation they would get their pay from the Omaha park fund. The checks were remitted a little more than a week ago and the word went around so quietly that only a few of the insiders knew that the pay had been granted.

Because he sold his back pay interest, amounting to $100 last Fourth of July for $50, J. H. Davis, supervisor of the Mandan park is now out his share above the $50 he accepted from former Superintendent of Parks John Lynn. The transaction was made in the belief that Commissioner Hummel would not make good on his promise. Now Davis is bewailing the fact that he received no "warrant" as the other employees of the park board have received. He expects to take the matter up with Mr. Hummel, but it is doubtful if he will recover anything. Lynn made $58 in the deal.

Annual Picnic Held.

Whether Moths Did It or Not, Fendler Lands in the Jug

Nothing else but a few 'tite innocent appearing moths, of the clothes closet variety, are responsible for C. F. Fendler, salesman for the Western Newspaper Union, and living at 2616 Cuming, being in jail Saturday.

Fendler bought a suit of clothes from Ben Cohn, tailor at 404 North Sixteenth street. He paid for it and took it away. Several days later he returned to Cohn and said the holes were caused by moths, or some other instrument, and refused to concede to Fendler's demands.

Fendler picked up a bit of cloth and started to walk away. He walked straight into a policeman's arms, and was arrested.

IMPROVEMENTS AT YORK.

Buildings Being Painted and Large Structure Added.

The York college administration is taking advantage of the vacation period to paint and decorate all of the college buildings. Important changes are being made in the commercial rooms and in the conservatory of music, making the buildings more fittingly adapted to the purposes they serve. The steady rain throughout the summer have kept the college campus fresh and beautiful.

The foot ball ground is being put in condition for the school opening, September 14. Coach Hawkins has issued a call for those who expect to make the team to come in as soon after September 1 as possible for practice. A game has been scheduled for October 1 in connection with the fall festival. The Commercial club is co-operating with the college administration in promoting this game.

A large business block has been purchased in the heart of the business district and is equipped for a college printing establishment and night school.

Other portions of the building will be used for a mitten and glove factory and for downtown music and art studios.

Many college people attended the Mod-SECRET MEETINGS HIT BY FEDERATION

Northwest Improvement Clubs Object to Star Chamber Sessions of School Board.

SPEECHES FOR TRAINING SCHOOL.

The Northwestern Federation of Improvement clubs at its regular meeting gave consideration to the subject of the Board of Education holding secret meetings and delegates to the federation voiced their objections to the proposed abolition of the teachers' training school, which has been maintained for ten years.

E. B. Black, secretary of the Monmouth Park Improvement club, started the discussion by stating: "I object to the Board of Education holding these star chamber sessions. It is undemocratic. The people have a right to know all that goes on in the meetings of the board. I seriously re-monstrate against abandoning the teachers' training school."

Mr. Black declared he knew of several specific instances of matters he was interested in, and which had been considered by the Board of Education in closed meetings.

It was the consensus of opinion among the eleven improvement clubs, that the matter of the school board should be given to the public.

Delegates Wolf, Craddock and Galbraith also spoke in favor of the training school, and apply to all public bodies of the city.

SCHOOL INSPECTOR TO TEST FOR HEAT IN THE COAL

The duties of this new official will be to test the coal delivered according to contract and to supervise the firing, to the end that the greatest possible heat may be obtained from the fuel. He also will be required to put in the summer months making repairs on the heating plants.
